

Make your own pseudo-historical plaque

By being on Market Street, you are part of its history.
Make a pretend plaque - what would you say to the future?

What stands out in your memory of this street?

What is the best (or worst) part of this street?

You can illustrate it if you feel like it.

You can keep it or leave it here for others to learn from.

Check out LocalWiki:

<https://localwiki.org/sf/>

Its goal is to collect what people know about their city.

It's fun to read, and it's easy to edit and share your own knowledge, memories, and research.

It's like Wikipedia, but more relaxed and easygoing.
